Buggy as hell. Once again Steam has released a game that was not ready to play on Steam. I requested "tech support" thru Steam and they granted me an audience 2 weeks later with the standard remove the game then re-download, etc. etc and obviously didn't read my ticket that I carefully typed out to them explaining exactly what it was doing and what the problem was. This game is buggy as hell (before Steam got a hold of it), and they had to have known it was going to be a problem based on the reviews of this game online. Add that to completely incompetent and nonexistent tech support via Steam and you have a waste of money on your hands. There is a group out here on Steam warning people about Steam's refusal to stand behind the games they sell, nor give refunds, nor give store credit, etc. We need to join together with groups like this to demand Steam take better care of its customers and starting appreciating our $ and act like a real store.. Farming Giant, for me, was not riddled with game breaking bugs however I still encountered some spectacular crashes with reproduceable causes. My primary complain is that there is no competition; no other farms are trying to service the cities so the only game over is if you spend yourself into a corner. Trying to create a grain farm is thankless and unrewarding, which might be realistic, but it pretty much mandates that you enter into beef cattle or dairy (dairy has a huge ROI). The graphics are pleasant, but the SFX for clicking buildings is obnoxious and the music is wildly out of place for this bucolic setting. Still, if you're a huge sim fan like myself, you can find some fun here.. Buggy.... really buggy. Crashes all the time.. This game is out since 2012, but has so many bugs which really kills the game. Crashing every now and then (found solution in forum saying to remove water and workers from building V field before changing anything = worked). but then there is problem with cars, time to time they decide to stop moving for no damn reason. Definetly not recommended to pay for this game I was very excited to play a game like this one but the GAME DOESN'T WORK. Many people including me have crash problems and there is no update fixing it. I bought and could only play 0,6 hours before it bores me with many crashes and bugs. Dont buy!. This game is filled with bugs. most can be worked around. i've already invested 20+ hours. Really confusing at first since there is a lack of a real tutorial. There are scenarios, but only one map. The key is to save and save often cause the game will randomly crash. 95% of the time it will be raining so alot of crop can't grow to effecent quantities due to the field being to humid. If you enjoy trying to figure out games that have very low details of what stuff does and you enjoy working with bugs (such as the new simcity) then you will enjoy the game, atleast til it crashes and you realise you havn't saved it for 1V2 and hour and you have to redo a ton of stuff.

The game would be brilliant for a casual game.

However the game crashes. I did all the steps on the support page, which states if the game still crashes go to the developer's page.

WHICH IS IN GERMAN ONLY.

The developer support page even worst then the Stream one.

Overall, I wouldn't buy the game if I knew that it is keeps crashing, and would like a refund, since the game is unstable, and this fact wasn't stated anywhere.. The potential is there for being a great sim, but the fact none of my accumulative orders ever actually "accumulate" means that they all fail. That combined with no in or out of game wiki means I can't look up on why things aren't working. Needs some patches before properly playable I think.. Very demanding CPU and video game (Core 2 duo , GeForce 9600m 512m , 4 gigs ram) punishing my computer , rendering is all low settings and its still choppy and slow (any game that has fine detail imaging and can be zoomed way out is usually very demanding on memory and cpu)

The minimum requirements on the game is misleading , 2,4 GHz Pentium and the recommended 3,0 GHz Pentium with a Nvidia Geforce GTX 560 (btw who runs a 3,0 GHz Pentium with a Nvidia Geforce GTX 560 together anyway , is that even possible ?). DO NOT BUY THIS GAME. Too many bugs. Unplay.. the amount of crashes you get are so bad its not worth playing at all and for the price i would not advice anyone paying for it.they need to patch it or remove it
